1915

HARDWARE regularly carried in stock by the average retail merchant.

Contains over 10,000 separate pieces of Hardware and 2,000 feet of Chain.

The Designs, Scenery and Lettering are made entirely of Hardware Articles.

ture, 48 feet long, 32 feet high.

the large dome of the Manufacturers' Building, with a frontage of 60 feet on Fifth Street and 28 feet on Avenue C.

(Designed and constructed by William J.
Britt, who has been continuously in the employ of the Simmons Hardware Company for more than thirty-six years.)

LARGE ELECTRIC CLOCK.

This Clock, with all its intricate mechanism, was designed and made entirely by regular employes of Simmons Hardware Company.

Has three faces, each 6 ft. in diameter. Minute hands are shovels and hour hands spades.

KEEN KUTTER Trade Mark design appears in place of the usual XII, while around the dial in place of the other numerals, are letters—T, R, O, Q, R, L, A, T, P, I, F—representing first letter of each word of our Trade Mark Motto:

"The Recollection of QUALITY Remains Long after the PRICE is Forgotten."

At outer circumference are 60 KEEN KUTTER Trade Marks, representing minutes, all are surrounded by a ring of Axes.

Clock worked by electricity and rings the Westminster Chimes each quarter, also strikes the hour.

B-CHAIN

A FOOT BALL

SWINGING BALL.

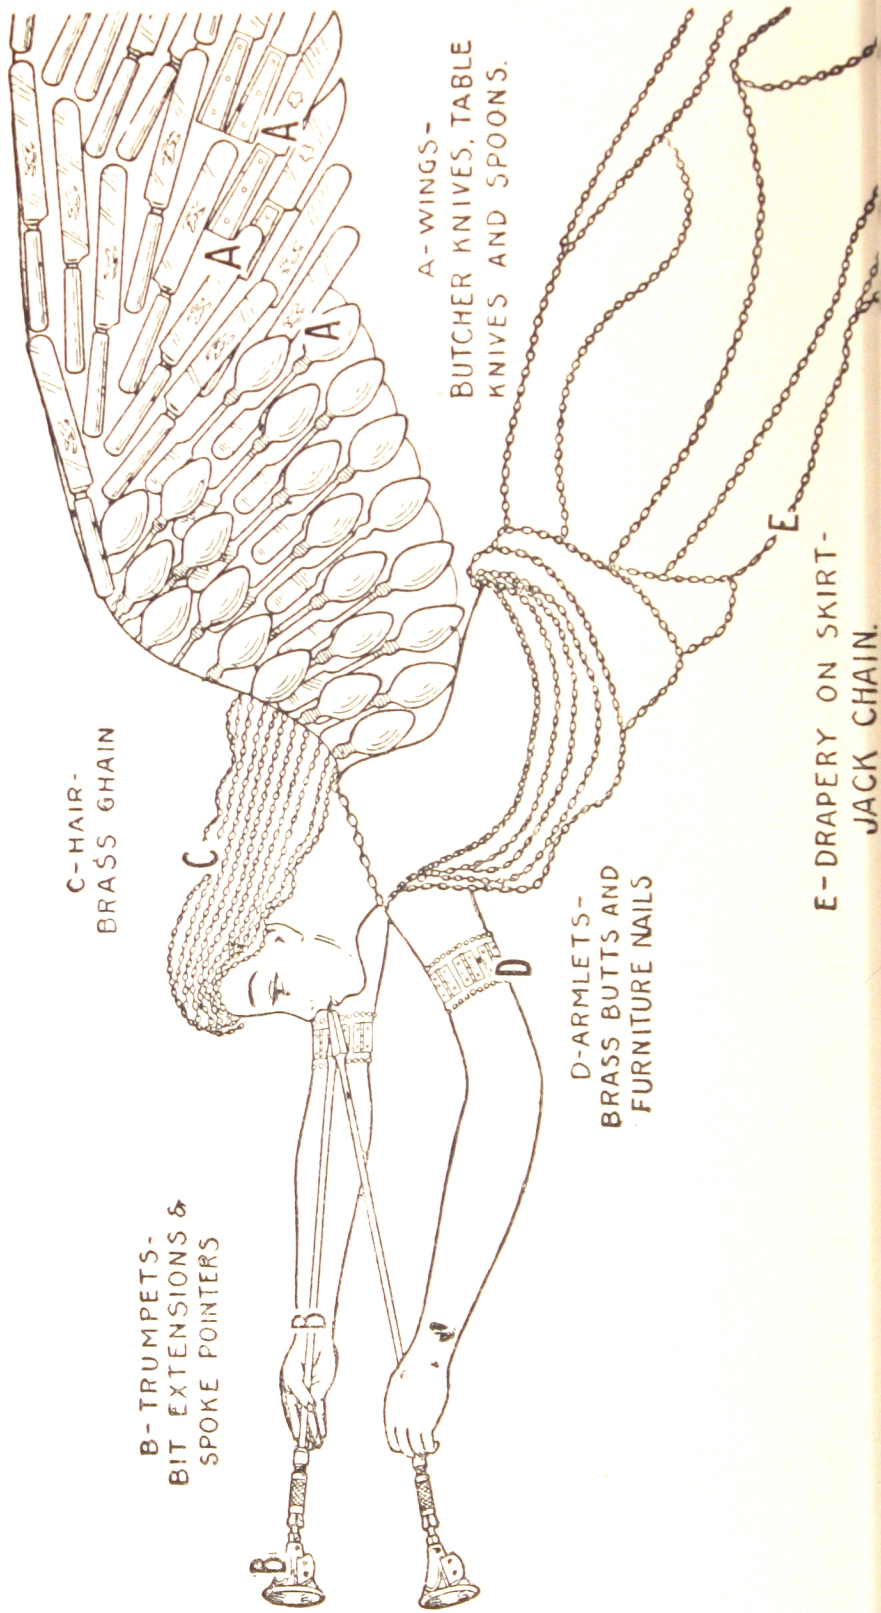

The ball swings by a Brass Jack Chain from end of pole, which pivots on the center of the Tower.

The Arm, which is worked by the clock movement in the Tower, is so constructed that, as it revolves, the centrifugal force causes the ball to swing outward until the chain strikes the flag staff at one corner of the balcony.

The natural impetus of this motion of the ball continues until the ball, circling around the Tower, wraps the full length of the chain around the staff. The reaction, caused by gravity, unwinds the chain, releasing the ball and allowing the ball to make another revolution in the opposite direction.
